

Giuliana Bertoia- Agredo

Chile, Canada
Student
University of Toronto

Born in Canada and raised in Chile, Giuliana is currently a student at the University of Toronto, planning to specialize in Political Science and minor in economics and environmental law and policy. Giuliana is interested in law, social entrepreneurship and its implications in an international setting. Outside of class, Giuliana is a manager in the U of T Rotaract club and a member of the international committee of the Rotaract district representation in district 4340. She is also a student executive for the Organization of Latin American Students and the Panhellenic Affairs Vice President for the Gamma Phi Beta Alpha Alpha Chapter.

Prior to her undergraduate studies, Giuliana attended the International School Nido de Aguilas in Santiago, Chile, where she was the student coordinator for the Student Ambassador program. She also helped plan student-run entrepreneurship conferences through the club Empredil and assisted Swedish researcher Holly Guthrie in her investigation of the Chilean peace trials. Giuliana completed the International Baccalaureate (IB) program and was an honorarium recipient of the Fluor Global Scholarship.

Giuliana was one of the international students who was selected to attend the GCI Fellowship 2017. There, she designed her project 'EduLeer'; the main goal of the project was to find ways to bridge the literacy gap in immigrant communities in Santiago, Chile through the implementation of free libraries.

In her free time, Giuliana enjoys practicing yoga, reconnecting with her high school friends, and exploring new places in Toronto.
