

KENYA SYDNEY

Enabling women in Mombasa to produce sanitary products so they can attend school.

"I can now confidently say that I know what a life changing experience really is. [At the Summit], I learnt numerous new skills such as thinking glocal. This has helped me built a belief in myself that I am not just a minute part of the community but can really make a change in the society that surrounds me. The activities during the Summit contributed in making me open minded in that I was able to learn from other people's values and perspectives."

Born in Kenya.

Speaks Luo, English and Swahili.

Attended Aga Khan Academy, Mombasa.
