

Elizabeth Adams

United States
Education Consultant

Elizabeth is an education consultant based in Connecticut. As former Chief Operating Officer of GCI, Liz oversaw our strategy, operations and programs. Prior to GCI, she served as a client advisor and project manager at Christie's auction house in London, where she led teams of art specialists to appraise historic private collections for the firm's top clients as part of the Estates and Appraisals division. Liz holds an MBA from the Tuck School of Business at Dartmouth, an MSt from the University of Oxford, and an AB from Princeton University. Elizabeth's heart resides in the great outdoors, and she is a firm advocate for the humanities and the arts.
