

Rita Gail Johnson

*United States
Chief Operating Officer*

Rita Gail Johnson is the Chief Operating Officer (COO) of GCI. She serves on the Board of nonprofit organizations in the arts and social services and prior to joining GCI led the sustainable investing conference program at Robert F. Kennedy Human Rights. For much of her 25-year career in the private sector, Rita was a management consultant focused on strategic planning and merger integration. Most notably, she was a Director at PricewaterhouseCoopers, where she oversaw cross-border assignments throughout the US, Europe and the Middle East, and a Director at the political risk consultancy Eurasia Group, where she advised corporations with investments in emerging markets.

Rita has an AB, cum laude, from Harvard and Radcliffe Colleges and an MBA from Harvard Business School.
